Lake Wildwood's own Ursela Rabe woke up one morning late last year and discovered she was famous.

She had just been voted:

#1 Best Animal Reiki Healer in the World

#2 Best Animal Communicator in Europe, #5 in the World

#1 Best Feng Shui Master in USA and Europe

#1 Most Recommended Lightworker in the United States

These were the results of a worldwide vote in which around 17,000 Lightworkers from 83 countries participated.

"It's a great honor to have been given these awards," Rabe says, in her soft European accent. "It feels very good because it's been my life's passion to help animals and to beautify and eliminate negative energy from homes."

Rabe is featured multiple times with many photos, interviews and biography in the 2015-16 editions of the World's Best, Most Trusted and Most Popular Lightworkers. The books are published internationally in English, French and German. The French version is presently #1 best-seller in France among alternative literature.

Rabe's long-time friend and colleague Vickie Gay of Reno (#2 Best Psychic and Medium in USA) said, "I felt moved to nominate her. I don't recommend just anybody. This is not some kind of advertising or thing that people can pay for. They voted for her because of the very good work she has done for a very long time."

Results dispel disbelief.

Although she was trained in Reiki in South Africa, "the animal communication/healing I was born with," explains Rabe. A native of Germany, she was a world traveler before she settled down in California in 1992.

Ironically, Rabe credits her world-class mastery of Feng Shui [fung-SCHWAY], the ancient Chinese art of creating an auspicious home or business environment, for developing her animal psychic practice.

"During my consultations for Feng Shui, the animals of the house would come up to me wanting to communicate, because they knew that I could interpret for them," Rabe explains.

"Sometimes, I would say to my client, I know you have hired me for Feng Shui, but can we take a moment? Your animal wants to talk to you."

It's easy to see and believe Rabe is a master at removing negative energy from animals when you see her physically use Reiki techniques directly on an animal.

It's harder to believe Rabe is a miracle worker when it comes to psychic healing over long-distances just by telephone, looking at the picture of an animal or not even that. Regardless, she has a worldwide following.

In fact, some of her loyal clients didn't believe she could do it — until she did.

"I've never experienced anything like it before," said Lake Wildwood resident Mark Estrada, who still has a note of awe even after four years of knowing Rabe.

Over the years, he said, Rabe brought his dog Kimmie back from near death and got this two fighting cats to get along with each other.

"She even saved one of my koi fish!" Estrada exclaimed. "She is a wonderful lady, but I have no idea how she does it."

Shannon Ross, formerly of Lake Wildwood, called Rabe when her son's cat Snowbell "looked like he was going to die."

Faced with overwhelming vet bills, she was contemplating putting the 10-year-old Snowbell down.

Having heard of Rabe, she called and described the problem. "I don't know how, but over the phone she got into Snowbell's space," Ross said.

Rabe gave Ross some additional instructions, and within a few days, "our cat just came back to life. Ursela is amazing." And then there was the case of the unhappy chickens. After letting her chickens free-range her family's 1.5-acre homestead near Grass Valley all winter, Sandy Saccomanno had to pen the chickens up to keep them out of the garden.

The chickens were not happy. "They were squawkin' and cluckin'," Saccomanno said. Having had success with Rabe before, she called up her animal mentor. Rabe asked her to email a picture of the upset hens. Shortly, thereafter, the chickens calmed down.

Everyone interviewed for this article, (including those not mentioned, for reasons of space) had more than one story to tell of Rabe's prowess. She gets a lot of repeat and referral requests. As fantastic as these stories might sound, Rabe is not bothered by skeptics. "I'm not here to convince anybody. Everybody is free to think what they want to, and the people who are interested in my work, they find me," she says, with a serene smile.
