Precious Moments With the Extraordinary Ursela Rabe

By Liza Coleman

Ursela Rabe is the real deal. She works nationally and internationally with animal healing and communication, Feng Shui, astrology, flower essences and acrophonology. In 2016-17, she was voted the world's #1 Best Animal Communicator, and #1 Best Animal Reiki Master/Healer. In addition, she has received numerous awards for her distinguished services to her clients and the community.

Q: You were elected/voted #1 Best Animal Communicator in the world, having said that, what proofs and tangible evidence do we have which demonstrate in an irrefutable manner that psychic communication with animals is possible?

A: -I get proof every day by my clients' confirmations of my findings. I also have hundreds of written testimonials from the guardians (owners) of the animals I have worked with. The majority of my clients are referred to me by their family or friends. That speaks for itself.

My work is not about proving that psychic communication with animals is possible. I leave that to the quantum physicists or better said quantum physics investigators. They are more qualified in bringing scientific studies and proofs to the public. My work is about bridging the gap in communication between interested and caring humans and their animals.

URSELA RABE: "OCCULT AND EXTRATERRESTRIALS CAN HAVE BOTH POSITIVE AND NEGATIVE IMPACT ON US..."

Q: At the New York 6th International vote, you were voted #2 Best Feng Shui Master/Consultant in the USA. Again, I will ask you the same question, what convincing evidence do you have and which proofs that Feng Shui really works? I know Hong Kong's businesses tycoons regularly consult Feng Shui masters on the areas and locations of opening new offices and headquarters. They are fully convinced that Feng Shui works perfectly for their business, investment, and even why and where to locate their businesses. How would you convince American businessmen that Feng Shui could work for them?

-Actually, there are quite a few prominent and very successful American and international businessmen and women who do use Feng Shui for their businesses and homes. I do not think you can convince anybody of a spiritual art if they are not ready for or receptive to it.

I am not interested in convincing anyone of my work - educating; yes - trying to convince: no. I hope this does not sound harsh, but I prefer to use my positive energy with those who appreciate my expertise and actually want to learn and improve their lives.

Q: How do you feel about the regulation/institutionalization of the psychic profession?

-I am not for the institutionalization of this profession. This, I feel, would be like regulating creativity, art or innate wisdom. Talking as the Free Spirit that I am, in my view the regulation of the psychic profession cannot be done without losing its essence, its vitality which is the most precious part of this calling. This is what organized religion has done to spirituality for the most part and that is why it so often (not always!) fails to satisfy the true spiritual seeker.

Q: Is there any relation between extraterrestrials and the occult?

-The definition of the word occult is: hidden from view and beyond the range of ordinary knowledge or understanding - mysterious; what is hidden from some and is open to others.

This definition applies to the occult as well as to extraterrestrials. Both are feared and demonized by many. Occult and extraterrestrials can have both positive and negative impact on us, are part of life and have always been with us. Neither are new phenomena. There exist occult charades in which negative occult entities (OCs) are masquerading as extraterrestrials creating confusion and havoc in order to do their parasitical work. This is such a very complex and vast subject that can hardly be touched upon in a few words. So, I will sign off on this now.

Q: Do you believe that animals also live on other planets?

-Yes, I believe so, of course, why shouldn't they?

URSELA RABE: ANIMALS HAVE THEIR OWN INTELLIGENCE THAT SERVES THE SURVIVAL OF THEIR SPECIES.”

There are so many planets and entire solar systems - there are whole multiverses out there - space is endless. I would think there would be at least one place that is similar to ours. Probably quite a few. I hope it would be less violent than this one though, especially towards animals.

Q: Do you think animals and humans came from the same source? And possibly would end up in the same place, somewhere beyond this physical dimension?

-Yes, I think we are not that different.

Animals are looked down upon by many because of human ignorance that is borne out of the calculated greed to be able to use animals and abuse them as slaves. Specism has very similar roots as racism. Animals have their own intelligence that serves the survival of their species, which in my view is not inferior to ours - just different. To those who think I am sentimental, I can only say that animals do not destroy their own nests, however humans do. Just look at the state this planet is in due to human destruction. How intelligent is that?

Q: Is there a heaven or a hell for pets?

-I hope they all go to heaven!

And yes, to answer your question, I think there is an afterlife for all animals, pets or wild. They deserve it. So many are misunderstood and abused by humans on this plane. This is why I am so passionate about creating greater understanding between human and animal.

BTW, I am not talking about heaven or hell in the religious sense here.

Q: We know that humans have an astral body, call it double if you want. And this etheric body is attached to our physical body via a "Silver Chord". Do animals have an astral body? If so, for what purpose?

Yes, animals are spiritual beings and have astral bodies, which are for the same purpose as ours. Anyone who has ever seen a dog sleeping, can clearly see that they are traveling in another realm during their sleep. This is just one of the most basic experiences that they have with their astral body, but one that I mention here because anyone can observe it simply by watching their twitching, moaning or "running".

Q: What does survive after death, the mind or the soul?

-It depends on the interpretation of the words mind and soul.

In my understanding the mind comprises the cognitive faculties that are connected to the ego while the soul is our spirit essence. So, with the foregoing semantic interpretation in mind, I have to say it is the soul that survives death. I am well aware that not all philosophical disciplines would agree with me on this.

Q: You are also psychic and medium, so how would you describe the afterlife?

-Yikes, the million-dollar question!

In my experience from talking to those on the other side, it depends on the consciousness of the entity who is in the afterlife.

If they were generally positive during their lifetime here, they have brought this consciousness into the afterlife and have positive experiences and feel happy and content. If they have had negative attitudes here, it translates into an afterlife with negative experiences. We all are manifesters who materialize our thoughts and feelings here as well as there. But, in the afterlife manifestation happens in the blink of an eye. Being away from the vibrational density and heaviness of this existence and from the constraints of a body, as soon as a thought or desire is felt in the much lighter vibration of the afterlife, this sensation materializes into some sort of form.

Q: Do animals continue to live after death?

-Yes, same as us; just that most are happier, because more unconditional love, contentment and lack of judgement naturally emanates from them. In fact, I purposely adopt senior special needs animals, who have had a rough life, in order to transmute their experience here and to give them a very happy and carefree retirement. This way they are prepared to be in a beautiful state of mind/soul when they cross over.

Q: Have you ever communicated with dead animals?

-Yes, often.

Q: Let's talk about the living; how do you communicate with animals? What do you do exactly?

-I tune into the animal (it's kind of like selecting a TV channel or a radio station) and I receive feelings, sensations, words, sentences or visuals from them. Some animals are more visually, verbally or sensory talented than others in their communication. It depends on the individual. Some are more chatty than others but so far all have been willing and eager to communicate.

Q: Can you teach pets' owners how to communicate with their pets on a psychic level?

Rabe: Yes, but it's mostly an inside job! Most people are not born with the ability, which is the result of past life efforts. A trained third eye can look into the spirit world of animals but it takes time and discipline to develop.

Here are some suggestions that can help people to cultivate the ability to listen to and hear animals: meditation, going within, developing total empathy and putting the ego aside, clean living, which includes untainted foods, focusing on selfless service and unconditional love. I highly recommend volunteering at a shelter or an animal rescue to learn about and tune into the suffering of animals and to try to help them. Not only will it help to develop the ability to tune into the animals, but you are helping the frightened and lonely, the poorest of the poor, by giving love and comfort and by spending quality time with them.

This really can make you feel good and appreciated. It really is a misconception and an excuse that it makes one feel too bad for the animals. Nothing changes if we don't help, but if we do, we have accomplished something extraordinary for them. These days there is an enormous movement of wonderful rescuers and volunteers at the shelters and the conditions and support are getting better all the time. We are no longer alone in this.

Animal Communication is borne out of total respect for the animal, empathy, love and a quiet, focused mind.

“LIFE IS NOT ALWAYS EASY BUT OPPORTUNITIES ALWAYS AROUND, WE JUST HAVE TO RECOGNIZE THEM.”

Q: Pragmatically, how could you be useful or helpful to pets' owners?

-Generally, people send a photo of their animal or I go on a house call to work with the animal in person. There are so many ways, that are unforeseen, as each case is different and has its unique challenges. I will let my clients speak for me. On my website www.animalpsychic.info they show with their testimonials examples of the wide range of services that I have provided for their animals.

Q: What about missing pets? Have you ever located or found missing animals?

-Yes, many times. But it is very difficult work because some cannot be retrieved because they have been stolen, sold or have died. To find this out and to give these messages to their guardians is heartbreaking.

Q: Just by looking at an animal, can you tell if he/she is sick, happy, unhappy, or wants to say something to us?

-Yes, most, if not all of the time. The eyes tell all.

Q: Do you have an important message for practitioners?

BE RESPECTFUL OF YOUR CLIENTS' FEELINGS. BE GRATEFUL AND
HAPPY FOR YOUR LIFE AND ITS MANY OPPORTUNITIES.

-I hope this does not sound preachy, but you asked, so here it is: Always do your best. Be respectful of your clients' feelings. Be grateful and happy for your life and its many opportunities. You can create the world you want. Life is not always easy but opportunities always abound, we just have to recognize them.

Happiness is a state of mind and a choice that everybody can make and gratitude and selfless service lead to happiness. A positive attitude constantly magnetizes more and more good things to us.

Q: And for the consultants?

-Same message.

Q: Ursula, you have an excellent reputation. Why?

-I am passionate about my work. It is my true calling. I always put my clients first - human or animal and treat everyone with the same respect, empathy, honesty and responsibility.

URSELA RABE: IT OFFENDS ME VERY MUCH WHEN PEOPLE WANT A QUICK-FIX TO LEARN PSYCHIC ABILITIES AND TREAT THIS LIKE A PARLOR GAME, ESPECIALLY WHEN IT COMES TO ANIMALS.

My clients appreciate that I make their concerns my own and single-mindedly concentrate on their healing when I am in session with them. This focus yields excellent results and recognition from them.

Q: How would you define your psychic and healing ability?

-Could there possibly be a definition for this...?

Let's see - I would say it's a gift that comes with a heavy responsibility and I want to use it in service to humans and animals, plants and for the good of our beautiful, ever giving planet. I endeavor to be an agent or a tool to help awaken at least a little the consciousness within and the respect for all living beings - be they animals, plants, mineral or human. And with that, I hope to bring some happiness, lightheartedness and a reduction of suffering to some of the inhabitants on our planet. Together with other Lightworkers our hope is that healing will create bigger and bigger circles, eventually bringing wholeness and wisdom to all.

Q: Final Question: Can you heal at distance?

-Yes, I often work long distance because my clients live all over the world. But, I absolutely love the house calls that I can do locally. It is so lovely to have the personal physical connection with the animal and the guardian or the person that is in need of healing. But that's just for me and my own heart - the long distance healing sessions work just as well as the in-person sessions.
